

Collection and Use of Personal Information

We may collect personal information such as your name, personal home address, personal e-mail address and personal telephone and fax numbers that you voluntarily provide to us when you request information about our services, submit questions, register for services, or when you submit your resume in relation to a career opportunity. The aforementioned personal information provided by you may then be used to communicate with you in connection with your various inquiries or to consider you for employment purposes

We may also collect information in connection with your visit to our Web site through the use of cookies. Such information will be used to analyze trends, to administer the site, to track visitors' movements around the site and to gather demographic information about our visitor base as a whole. The use of cookies merely identifies you as a number, that is, your name, address or any other information that directly identifies you will not be collected. Additional details regarding the use of various technologies are provided below.

Disclosure of Personal Information

We may disclose the personal information collected through this Web site with our affiliates for internal business purposes.

We may also share information provided by you with service providers that we retain to perform services on our behalf. These service providers are contractually limited from using or disclosing the information except as is necessary to perform the services or to comply with legal requirements. Furthermore, we may disclose information about you where we are required or permitted by law to do so.

Protecting your Personal Information

To protect the personally identifiable information you transmit through your use of this Web site, we maintain reasonable physical, technical and administrative safeguards to help protect against the unauthorized access, use and disclosure of the information.

Use of Technology: Cookies & Logs

As previously mentioned, Hoskin Scientific Ltd. may use cookies to collect information about its visitors. Cookies are identifiers that are transferred to your computer's hard drive through your Web browser to enable our systems to recognize your browser. You may choose to disable cookies on your computer by modifying your Web browser.

Hoskin Scientific Ltd. may also use logs to collect information about its visitors. Hoskin Scientific Ltd. may review server logs for security purposes, for example, to detect intrusions into our network. Server log data, which contains visitors' IP addresses, could in instances of criminal malfeasance be used to trace and identify individuals. In such instances, raw data logs would be shared with appropriate investigative bodies authorized to investigate such breaches of security. Like cookies, logs do not cross reference the information automatically collected with any type of personal information that is voluntarily offered by you on or through this Web site.

Consent

By using this Web site and sub-sites, you consent to the collection, use and disclosure of your personal information by us in the manner described in this Privacy Policy. Hoskin Scientific Ltd. reserves the right to make changes to this Privacy Policy from time to time without notice.
